a less, but considerable, decrease. Like most of the other papers the general remarks it contains show that every effort has been made to collect information. Mr Deschamps informs us of the means by which the Chinese work their combinations to oust foreigners from the import trade, as also the manner in which they avail themselves of the steamer traffic to give Europeans on the spot the go-by, and send their teas to the larger market of Shanghai. Mr Leonard, the Commissioner at Ningbo has some startling remarks on "The daily abuse of the Transit-pass system" but otherwise neither his report, nor that from Chin-keang, calls for special notice. Mr Lay, in charge of Fochow, presents us with perhaps the fullest commercial report in the volume. His paper deals exhaustively with the foreign and coast trade both in European and Chinese bottoms; and gives a statement of the number of firms and residents of all nationalities, and of the native banks. The general remarks and supplement, though destitute of any traces of composition, afford also some novel and interesting information concerning Fochow itself.

In Mr Man's report from Amoy, a reference is made to the disability under which the iron trade labour—a disability scarcely known to the general public, but most injurious to the interests of Amoy.
It is, we believe, the only Chinese port where the privilege of dealing in iron is farmed to the highest bidder and we share his hope that so obsolete a regulation will be abrogated. Formosa as usual offers an inexhaustible field for remarks "outside" of mere trading statistics and Mr Kopsch has not failed to avail himself of the opportunity. With the "Sketch of Hainan" we must deal on a future occasion. But apart from that paper the volume may be taken as the most interesting upon general topics connected with the Treaty ports, yet produced from the Customs press.

A REMINISCENCE OF HONGKONG.

Twenty years ago Colonel Caine, then Lieut. Governor of this Colony, instituted criminal proceedings against Mr Tarrant on a charge of conspiring with certain Chinese to falsify his high office. We find mention of it in a pamphlet written by Mr Chisholm Anstey in 1859, and it is amusing to read how circumstances favoured Col. Caine in his reluctance to proceed with the trial. Says Mr Anstey—Colonel Caine was never ready.

In the first instance, his Compadore, he said, had left the Colony, and there must be a postponement on that ground.

Why he allowed the man to leave, without his presence at the trial being secured in the usual manner, he could not say.

Months elapsed; and every month brought with it the appearance of Mr Tarrant and his Attorney at the bar of the Supreme Court. But still the Colonel was not ready.

A Mr Molloy Campbell, a personal friend of the Lieutenant-Governor, was, at that time, the Acting Attorney-General.
To him, at length, Mr Tarrant's Attorney gave notice of his intention to move the Court for his client's discharge, unless brought to trial forthwith. The ground was, that Colonel Caine's Compadore, for whom all this delay was prayed, was ascertained to be living quietly within Hongkong after all.

The application being made, the Chief Justice expressed a strong opinion of the unfairness of all these proceedings, but advised Mr Tarrant, instead of accepting his discharge, to stand his trial at an approaching Session. The Acting Attorney-General having undertaken to bring on the case for trial, Mr Tarrant acceded to the advice thus given him by the Chief Justice.

Before the time arrived, the Chief Justice was himself suspended upon a charge chiefly supported by Colonel Caine, and responding to be false the moment the proceedings reached Downing Street. He was, therefore, reinstated, without delay, and with honor.

But, during His Honor's absence from the Colony, the Acting Attorney-General had become Acting Chief Justice.

The still, untired Mr Tarrant, appeared at the Sessions appointed. But the Acting Chief Justice refused to preside at his trial; alleging the indecency of sitting, as Acting Judge, upon an information signed by him, as Acting Attorney-General.

It was replied, that the delicacy did him honor; but that it had not prevented him from trying, at the same Session, sundry prisoners, whose cases, in that respect, was the same as Mr Tarrant's; and that he (Mr Tarrant) was quite willing to waive all objection on the score of delicacy, if delicacy there was in the case, and to proceed at once to his trial.

The Acting Chief Justice, however, persisted in the refusal; and, as there was no other Judge in the island, the case was abandoned.

Mr Tarrant, being thereupon discharged for the time, has not as yet been fortunate enough to get any one to try him, or even to prosecute.

More than ten years have, nevertheless, elapsed since his last appearance in that court.

In 1858, Mr Tarrant was again a defendant—this time at the suit of the then Acting Attorney-General, who filed a criminal information against him, charging him, as editor of the Friend of China, "with intent to move the Queen's subjects to hatred and contempt of the Queen's Government in the said Colony."

This time Mr Tarrant was more successful. He got a trial, and he got a verdict, an unanimous one from a special jury of merchants and bankers. How history repeats itself! We need not repeat the latest instance, but the history of Hongkong so far seems to indicate that every ten years there will be a prosecution for public libel, unless certain people in authority here follow Lord Chief Justice Cockburn's example, and "progress with the age."

LOCAL.

We are glad to state that the Band of the Rodney will play to-morrow in the Public Gardens, commencing at half-past three o'clock p.m.

By the Charlotte H. Andrews, which left Syratow yesterday, we learn that the men-of-war were still there at the time of her departure. Admiral Keppel reached Syratow on Sunday morning. Everything seemed quiet.

This afternoon, a visitation of the Clergy of this Diocese was held in the Cathedral, and a Charge delivered by the Lord Bishop. We shall give an outline of the Charge to-morrow.

MR. HOLWORTH'S MURDERERS.

As we have already mentioned, something has been done in the matter of the detection and capture of the murderers of Mr W. W. Holworthy. Certain mysterious movements were freely spoken of yesterday, and facts of a most conclusive nature were fully given forth as having come to light—somebody. The high rewards offered, coupled with the peculiarly strong public reasons why the murderers should be discovered, were expected to have some result of a satisfactory nature; and we frankly confessed that the necessary measures to ensure that end were in the best of hands. It must be admitted, however, by every one versed in such matters, that the present case was one of almost unprecedented difficulty; and while if anything of a definite character was looked for until a month or three weeks had passed. That we have to report a result very different and far beyond expectations is matter for congratulation to the community, and of credit to all concerned. By a judicious, clever and quiet manipulation of the proper machinery, tracks have been followed and traces been carefully examined; and the result, as we have said, is so far satisfactory. It is believed that the man who actually committed the Gap murder, and the two men who assisted at that terribly cruel business, are now in custody; and the credit of this capture is, we understand, due to the efforts of Mr D. R. Caldwell, in his capacity as manager and adviser for the Licenses of the Gambling Farm. It is asserted, the purpose of the Gambling Licenses is mainly anti-criminal, it must be confessed that those interested in that monopoly have done their utmost on the present occasion to further the ends of justice. Two of the men now in custody (one of whom is an ugly, branded ruffian) were captured in Macao as early as yesterday forenoon by Mr Caldwell and his assistants; and one of the accomplices (or supposed accomplices) was caught in Hongkong. The narrative of the chase and capture is interesting enough, and may possibly appear in some form by and by. It is enough for us at present to say that three men are in custody against whom it is hoped that evidence may be brought which will clear up the mysterious tragedy which has absorbed public interest for the last nine days.

INTERESTING TO JOURNEN.

An inquest, which was opened about a fortnight since, when the body was viewed and buried, was resumed on Saturday last pursuant to adjournment, when Mr John McNulty, one of the jurors, failed to appear, and was fined by the Coroner in the sum of $20. Yesterday afternoon, the same inquiry was resumed, when another delay and adjournment were occasioned by the absence of Mr E. Lilley, foreman of the Jury. Mr Stewart, the Coroner, asked an explanation from Mr McNulty, the absence of the former day, why he failed to attend; to which the juror replied (and offered to state on oath) that he was suddenly seized with "gripes" in his stomach.
In consideration of this alleged sickness and certain services occasionally rendered as a jurymen in cases at the Civil Hospital, Mr McNulty's fine was remitted. Mr E.
Lilley having been called after a lapse of about half-an-hour, was fined in the full penalty of $50; which, failing sufficient cause shown, will be exacted, as a warning to others. The inquiry was to meet again for the fourth time, this evening at 4 o'clock.

The inquest was resumed at 4 o'clock this evening, when all the Jurors appeared.
Mr Lilley, in reply to the Coroner, stated that he was engaged in the Store (Sayle & Co.) about the time he ought to have been at the inquest, that he was the only man in the store who could speak Chinese, and that a lady came in who had to be attended to. About a quarter past four, he discovered the time of evening, and at once went up to the Magistracy, but found that he was too late.—Mr Stewart remarked that he would consult the Magistrate on the point, and do what he could to remit a half of the penalty imposed; but he could not hold out any hopes that the mitigated penalty of $25 would not be exacted.

The evidence was then proceeded with; which went to show that a seaman named Jacobson, belonging to the barque Japan, was found drowned near Kowloon Dock. He had expressed a desire to have his discharge, had frequently refused to work and had been more than once before the Harbor Master in consequence. The captain missed deceased on the 7th Jan., and he was found drowned on the 15th.
About $43 were due to him. No reason could be given for this desire to leave the vessel, and the Consul at that time (Mr Hockney) did not think that any further inquiry by the Consular authorities into the cause of death would be of any use.
Deceased was frequently drunk.—The Coroner remarked that it was somewhat remarkable that all traces of European life deceased should be lost from the 7th to the 15th; but he was perfectly prepared to either leave the case in the Jury's hands or adjourn it, as the Jury thought fit. There was no money upon him at the time.

A verdict of "Found Drowned" was then returned; and the Coroner observed that, although he could not but agree with the Jury's verdict, still he would say that he never closed an inquiry with less satisfaction, especially in view of the fact that deceased was a European.

The Ceylon Observer observes—"The Indo-European line seems improving. Bunter's telegrams have reached us regularly lately with news occasionally only two days from London. But all this is excelled by the expedition with which a telegram from a Colombo firm was transmitted at the end of November. It was despatched on the afternoon of 29th November and they now learn that it was actually received in London on the morning of the 30th. The message must therefore have gone from Colombo to London in little more than 12 hours. We talk coolly of such feats now, but men living remember the time when the receipt of advices in 90 days was considered very good."

We learn that the screw steamer West Indiana, 1,800 tons, has been chartered early this month for a voyage from Bushire to Hongkong to carry 700 tons cargo, principally Opium, with liberty to call at Fapang and Singapore to fill up for the owner's benefit. She may therefore be expected at Singapore shortly.—Observer, Jan.

AUXILIARY BIBLE SOCIETY.

We regret that, through an oversight on the part of our reporter, our yesterday's issue contained no notice of the annual meeting of the Hongkong Branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society, held during the afternoon. His Excellency the Governor presided, and the report having been read proceeded to address the meeting. We gather from the report in our contemporary that H. E. spoke somewhat discouragingly of the first year's results of the working of the local branch, but expressed a hope that a brighter and more prosperous future was before the association. He spoke of the prudence and caution necessary for the introduction of the Bible into the interior of China, and said that recent events showed that at least some of the missionaries were scarcely discreet enough for the task.

The Lord Bishop made a partial explanation of the limited success of the Society during the past year by saying that the former Secretary fell sick and had to leave England. Touching the work of missionaries, he thoroughly endorsed what H.
E. had said regarding the special discretion and wisdom requisite for labours amongst the Chinese. Still he believed, and Connel Medhurst bore him out in saying, that Mr Taylor was not to blame in the Yangchow affair; and he believed that the missionaries generally had behaved themselves wisely and kindly. He concluded by moving the adoption of the report.

This motion was seconded by the Hon. the Chief Justice, who spoke of the marked prudence of the great parent society, and said that the Committee here had done not a little to strengthen general interest in its doings.

The Hon. Mr Taylor having made a few remarks, the resolution was carried.
The Rev. Canon Beach next proposed the following resolution—"That in reviewing the labours of the past year this meeting desires to express its thanksgiving to Almighty God for the prosperity vouchsafed to the operations of the society during that period; and at the same time this meeting recognizes, in the many urgent claims on the society's agency, a powerful motive for increased zeal and liberality, that resources may be furnished commensurate with the great work yet to be accomplished."

This was seconded by the Rev. Mr Lech-ter and unanimously carried.
The Rev. D. B. Morris next proposed—"That the following be the officers for the ensuing year:—Pastor—His Excellency the Governor; President—The Lord Bishop of Victoria; Vice President—The Hon. the Chief Justice; Secretary—Rev. John Kyle; Treasurer—F. Blackhead, Esq.; Lay Committee—The Hon. J. B. Taylor, R. S.
Walker, Esq., C. C. Smith, Esq., with power to add to their number."

This resolution, having been seconded by the Rev. Chaplain of the U.S.S. Piscataqua, was carried.

In responding to a vote of thanks for presiding (proposed by Rev. John Kyle and seconded by the Lord Bishop), His Excellency said that the subscription for last year were not a fair representation of the known liberality of the community of Hongkong. By a balance sheet it was found that the Association was in debt some $283.19.

TO-DAY'S POLICE.

Before Mr May's this morning, a fair amount of cases were disposed of.
In connection with a daring harbor robbery yesterday—in which a Chinese man having stolen an anchor and thirty fathoms of cable from a party of armed robbers in a pull-away boat—Inspector Daly stated that Mr Acting Superintendent Deane reported to him (at midnight) a robbery, and he immediately proceeded in search. The prisoner (Chun Yut Wo) was found in a pull-away boat coming from Yau-mah-tee; and a most unsatisfactory account was given by the prisoner of his movements.— Mr May therefore ordered prisoner to find security of $100 for three months.

Sergeant O'Brien, water police, charged Cheong Anson and Chung-hing-kwei with having stolen an anchor and thirty fathoms of cable from a fast-boat anchored off West Point last night. The owner of the fast-boat having identified the anchor as his property, and recognised the second prisoner as a man who had stolen from him before, both prisoners admitted having stolen the anchor and cable.—Mr May sentenced each of the prisoners to six months hard labor, and ordered them to find security for three months.

Abma, a Malay seaman on board the schooner Argyle, was brought up and charged with having administered deleterious drugs to a fellow-seaman named Quor-lak. It appears that the prisoner had quarrelled with the complainant, and as a rejoinder had purchased some poisonous or deleterious beans and mixed them with complainant's rice and other condiments, from the effects of which mixture complainant fell sick. Witnesses were called who saw the poisoning of the beans and the mixture thereof; and Captain Bowman stated what he knew of the affair. Prisoner had also given it out as his intention to injure the complainant, though he now denied the charge.—Mr May sent prisoner to hard labor for three months.

The piracy at Tsing I (in which five prisoners are now charged) occupied the bench during the afternoon and evening.
The Court was sitting at 5 p.m., and the case was expected to be remanded again.
The facts, as it may be remembered, are that, on the 10th instant, a number of old Candi-an Chinese took passage in a fast-boat to Heung-shan, having with them over $8000 worth of gold-dust on board; and instead of going straight on, it is alleged by the passengers that the Captain of the junk anchored off Tsing I, where two sinks-boats attacked and robbed the passengers of their valuable property.
One of the prisoners now under trial is said to be the head man.

"What blessings children are!" as the parish clerk said when he took the fees for christening them,

SUMMARY JURISDICTION COURT.

(Before the Hon. H. J. BAILLIE.)
February 2, 1869.

F. Tybally v. A. H. Chinoy, £46.15.
This case was adjudged according to an award given by the arbitrator. Judgment for plaintiff in $38.

R. G. Alfred v. Yu Wong, $40, for drawing certain plans.—Defendant, who is a contractor for carpenter work, stated that he had taken out a summons against Mr Maximilian Fischer; but this was found to have been refused by the servants of Mr Fischer, who stated that their master had gone out.

Plaintiff, who described himself as a surveyor, stated that he had drawn the four plans produced by the defendant, and that he informed the defendant more than once that he had done them for him and not for Mr Fischer.

Defendant here said, that Mr Fischer considered that these plans were "no use." Defendant said he was asked by Mr Fischer to have some alterations done to his billiard-room; and he further stated that Mr Fischer had said to him, when he asked about the payment, "Mr Storey says not to pay Mr Alfred anything, as he is only a boy; you can pay him $100 if you like, that is nothing to me."

His Honor said that defendant had asked the plaintiff to do the plans, and he would have to pay for them; he would not go into the question of Mr Fischer's liability, as the summons had not been served. But the fact that defendant in the present action had summoned Mr Fischer for this amount, as work done by him for Mr Fischer, was an inference that he held himself liable.

Plaintiff said that he did not care from whom he got the money.
Judgment for the plaintiff for the amount claimed.

J. Santos v. V. Fernandez, $10, wages as a midwife. Plaintiff attends persons in the capacity of midwife, and sued for the above amount as balance of a $12 fee charged for such service.

Defendant, who is a colored man, said that $6 was the usual fee for poor people, and he offered to pay that amount.
His Honor said there was no agreement, and as he thought $12 too much, and $6 too little, he would give judgment for $8.

W. Driscoll v. J. Collico, $2.50, for one dozen beer; Same v. G. Dubost, $3.93, for olives.—Judgment went by default in both cases.

THE NORTH.

(From the Recorder.)

Our readers will be glad to learn that Ko, the Chin-jen who absconded from Yangchow, has been arrested and identified by Mr Taylor. The Chinese authorities refuse, however, to punish him as a ringleader inasmuch as one man has already suffered in that capacity. This objection is, we understand, a technical one, and does not necessarily arise from any desire to defeat the ends of justice. It is expected that matters will be so arranged as to ensure his receiving a punishment equal to that which he would legally have incurred as a ringleader.

The ship Sea Queen, which left this port a short time ago for Nagasaki, when about 40 miles E. of the Barren Islands sprang a leak, which increased to such an extent that the Captain deemed it advisable to put back to Shanghai. The vessel, however, gained on them so rapidly that in order to prevent her from sinking she was run on the South Saddle. When she struck there was as much as 10 feet water in her hold.
The sails, spars, and everything movable will be saved, as the second mate and crew are busily engaged in stripping her.

CHEFOO.—The weather here, as far as the winter has yet gone, has been remarkably mild; at Christmas there was a little ice, but since then it has been more like spring weather. The diggers have all been driven away from the diggings by the Chinese, and are now in Chefoo waiting for the spring; when they expect to receive resurrenders from Shanghai, and intend going further into the country, where the gold is said to be more plentiful. If they do so, they will have to go in great force, as the Chinese are determined to drive them away from the diggings at all hazards.

On the night of the 12th instant the community here was thrown into a state of great excitement owing to a large party of about 100 Chinese having forced their way on board the Russian barque Amur.
They put the Captain in irons and locked the mate in his room, the iron being too small for him. They then ransacked the cabin and removed everything portable.
The Captain estimates the loss at $2,000.
The thieves had evidently mistaken the vessel for the American barque Arthur, which had taken in a large quantity of fyces the day before, and luckily for them they had done so, as if they had gone on board the Arthur they would have had a warm reception, the Captain having had all the available arms loaded, and being prepared for any emergency. No trace of the thieves has yet been discovered, but no doubt will in a short time, for if they have gone in the country they will be driven back by the Chinese, and it is hardly possible for them to leave Chefoo without discovery. The Kiu Shu takes from here the largest amount of fyces yet shipped by one vessel, nearly 100,000.

Our advices from Taku are dated the 26th December, and at that time the River between Taku and Tientsin was entirely free from ice, and from all accounts the weather has been very mild.

(Express.)

The amount of Cotton now daily making its way towards Kin-de-yuen is something noticeable; every steamer up River takes from 3,000 to 3,600 bales, and the river is supposed to be running Bankow. Times are considerably changed since that period, not many years ago, when similar amounts found their way down the great river for shipment here to England.

We are glad to hear that the Kwang Loong premises are once more to be occupied by a leading mercantile firm, the enterprising American House of Smith Archer & Co., the representatives we believe of A. A. Lowe & Co. of New York, having determined on extending their operations from Hongkong to Shanghai.
It looks well for the business prospects of the place when firms of good standing are attracted to it, and every such accession should be gladly welcomed as an evidence of the approach of better times.

We have received intelligence of the Annan Tribute bearers who are en route to Peking. On September the 16th they arrived on the frontier of the Kwangse Province where they were met by a deputation and escorted from the Futai and conducted to Lwei-tsing, the capital of the Province, which they reached on November 10th.

Here they were generously entertained by the mandarins and provided with suitable clothing for the remainder of their journey. Thence they were escorted overland, the River being dry, to the confines of the Hunan Province to be received, and passed on by that Futai to the next and so on to the end of the chapter. They expected to reach Peking by the close of the Chinese year. The character of their Tribute has not transpired.

THE WRECK OF THE GOSSAMER.

The following account of the wreck of this ill-fated vessel is taken from the columns of the Western News—

The Gossamer, a China tea clipper ship, of 735 tons register, was built in 1864, by Mr Stevens, of Glasgow. She was a composite ship, wood with iron frame, and classed A. 1.15 years at Lloyd's. She left the Downs for Adelaide, Australia, on Wednesday, in charge of Grant, a London pilot, her master being Mr Thompson, and her surgeon Mr Dale. She had but one passenger on board. Mr Dale was to call at Plymouth to embark other passengers under the agency of Messrs. Wilcocks and Weekes, and among them were the Rev. Mr Jeffries, family, and servants, and Miss King. On Thursday, during a strong S.W. breeze and a heavy sea, the Gossamer was working her way down Channel in the pilot's charge.
The captain, who had been but three weeks married, was with his wife below, unsuspicious of danger. The mate was with the pilot on deck, and about noon called Grant's attention to the fact that they were, in his judgment, standing too close to shore to the Start, but the pilot declared they were all right, and continued on the starboard tack. Shortly afterwards the ship got very close under the land, and the pilot gave the order to tack. The flood tide, however, was sweeping round the point, and its strength the pilot had miscalculated. On attempting to tack the ship missed stay; there was not time to make a further tack, and in a minute or two the captain, attracted by the shouts, rushed on deck exclaiming, "For heaven's sake where are we?" His ship being driven by a S.W. wind and tide broadside on to the breakers. Two anchors were instantly let go, but the bottom was ruled and loose shingle, and they would not hold, and in less time than it has taken to pen the fact the Gossamer was beating on the jagged rocks 60 yards from shore, green seas breaking over her and sweeping the decks. These occurrences had been watched by the Coast-guard, who saw the imminent danger of the ship long before the rocket apparatus and conveyed it to the point nearest to the wreck. The crew were so terrified by their position, in momentary danger of being washed over, and unable to preserve the preparations being made on shore for their rescue, that several of them jumped overboard to swim ashore. Most of these, however, unhappily perished in the attempt; and they remained aboard, as the sequel showed, they would probably have been saved, as all who maintained their position were ultimately brought ashore by means of the rocket apparatus.

INSURANCES

This image is a vertical, high-contrast, black and white scan of a textured surface. It exhibits significant vertical streaking and noise, characteristic of a low-quality scan or a heavily degraded document. The texture appears rough and uneven, with a dark, possibly black, background on the right side. The overall appearance is that of a heavily worn or damaged piece of material, such as wood or metal, captured in a very poor quality scan.
